

I understand that the Senate's Natural Resources, Environment and Great Lakes Committee is having a hearing tomorrow to explore the possibility of hunting wolves in Michigan. I would like to express my vehement opposition to adding wolves to the list of game species in Michigan. These animals have been protected for several years and should continue to be. There is no evidence to indicate that their populations have reached a level to warrant such action. Please consider my views as you discuss this critical issue on October 17th and add my comments to the official record. Thank you.

Sincerely,
